Baby I've got plans tonight, you don't know nothin about
I've been sittin round way to long trying to figure you
But you say that you'll call and you don't, and I'm spinnin my wheels
So I'm going out tonight in my red high heels

I'm gonna call up that old boyfriend you said still has it bad for me
I'm gonna take him into town, flaunt him into town for everyone to see Well, you said once yourself, baby, yeah, you know the deal
Nobody holds a candle to me in my red high heels

Oh, you can watch me walk if you want to, want to
I bet you want me back now don't you, don't you I'm about to show you just how missin me feels
In my red high heels

All those games you tried to play, well, they ain't gonna work on me now I put a barbed wire fence around my heart baby, just to keep you out Well you thought I'd wait around forever, but baby get real
I just kicked ya to the curb in my red high heels

Oh you can watch me walk if you want to, want to
I'm about to show you just how missin me feels

I'm about to show you just how missin me feels in my red high heels
In my red high heels, in my red high heels
