He loves to hate, she hates to love, lonely above
His dirty mind, she just stays clean and sober

True romance in joy opposites always is the case
When you only enjoy taking on all the colors that surround you

She's on the fence, he's on the ground, laid our face down
She takes so long, he's hanging on forever

True romance in joy opposites always is the case
When you only enjoy taking on all the colors that
surround you

Any of sign of life you might want to share with me tonight, oh
Oh, any sign of life you might want to share with me
tonight, oh
He's always lost, she knows the way, softly he'll say, "Can you bring me at your pace? Bring me at your place."

True romance in joy opposites always is the case
When you only enjoy taking on all the colors that
surround you

True romance after all

True love in joy opposites always is the case
