Moving without you, moving without you
Loving without you, loving without you

Happy without you, happy without you
Happy without you
Better without you, better without you
Better without you

Everything is cool
I'm doing things my way
I packed up all my things
I'm headed down the highway

Every step I took
I took it on good ground
Every move I make
I always make it somehow

I've been through the storm
I've been through the rain
Suffered the hurt
Dealt with the pain

I used to say I didn't know
What I would do without you
If I can make it without you
But I'm doing better without you

Moving without you, moving without you
Moving without you, moving without you
Moving without you, moving without you

I'm loving without you, loving without you
Loving without you, loving without you
Loving without you, loving without you

I'm happy without you, happy without you
Happy without you, happy without you
Happy without you, happy without you

I'm better without you, better without you
Better without you, better without you

Better without you, better, I'm

Pursuing all my goals
And knowing what's best for me
Living out my dreams
I saw what's important to me

My focus is on point
And I can see clear now
And everyday is a brighter day
The darkness has died down

I had some doubts
I cried some tears
Felt all alone
But it's crushed all my fears

I used to say I didn't know
What I would do without you
If I can make it without you
But I'm doing better without you

Moving without you, moving without you
Moving without you, moving without you
Moving without you, moving without you

I'm loving without you, loving without you
Loving without you, loving without you
Loving without you, loving without you

I'm happy without you, happy without you
Happy without you, happy without you
Happy without you, happy without you

I'm better without you, better without you
Better without you, better without you
Better without you

I'm not reminiscing
I am living in this moment
I am moving forward
'Cause the worst is far behind me

I am leaving the resentment
I'm releasing all the tension
'Cause it's finally about me

Moving without you, moving without you
Moving without you, moving without you
Moving without you, moving without you

I'm loving without you, loving without you
Loving without you, loving without you
Loving without you, loving without you

I'm happy without you, happy without you
Happy without you, happy without you
Happy without you, happy without you

I'm better without you, better without you
Better without you, better without you
Better without you, better

I'm moving without you, moving without you
Moving without you, moving without you
Moving without you, moving without you

I'm loving without you, loving without you
Loving without you, loving without you
Loving without you, loving without you

I'm happy without you, happy without you
Happy without you, happy without you
Happy without you, happy without you

I'm better without you, better without you
Better without you, better without you
Better without you, better, I'm
