Well you can test the water now it ain't no sin Sometimes it's better just to dive right in into the river of love
There ain't no need for you to cast your line
My heart's the only treasure you will find in the river of love

Well the river of love where no lights shine
But the flame of love you put in this heart of mine
You can spend your life wishin' on the stars above Or you can take your chances on the river of love

There ain't no anchor that can tie us down We'll sail forever never run around on the river of love
There ain't no storm that we can't overcome There are no heartaches that can steal you from from the river of love [guitar]

Let's stay on board and ride it till the end You never know just what's around the bend on the river of love
There ain't no need for you to cast your line
My heart's the only treasure you will find find on the river of love

Well the river of love where no lights shine...
River of love the river of love River of love the river of love river of love the river of love
