I felt you coming girl as I drew you near I knew you'd find me cause I longed you here are you my destiny, is this how you'll appear wrapped in a coat with tears in your eyes we'll take that coat baby and throw it on the floor Are you the one that I've been waiting for You've been moving surely towards me my soul has comforted and assured me that in time my heart it will reward me and that all will be revealed

Laura

I've sat and I've watched an ice-age thaw Are you the one that I've been waiting for Out of sorrow entire worlds have been built out of longing great wonders have been willed they're only little tears darling let them spill and lay your head upon my shoulder Outside my window the world has gone to war
are you the one that I've been waiting for We will know won't we stars will explode in the sky but they don't do they stars have their moments then they die There's a man who spoke wonders though I never met him he said "He who seek finds, and who knocks will be let in"

I think of you in motion and just how close you are getting and how every little thing anticipates you Down through my veins my heartstrings call are you the one that I've been waiting for
