Is it for real - the thing that you do Always smile at everything that surrounds us Do you feel that everything's beautiful here Or that everything's alright Cos you like, you like You like everything that surrounds us Do you like, you like You like everything that surrounds us? The more you smile the more i feel taken for a ride I'm confused deep inside Do you see something i'm not able to see Could it be that i should change my beliefs Cos you like, you like You like everything that surrounds us Do you like, you like You like everything that surrounds us?
