Show me people who are sure of their next day
Draw me portraits of those who were killed on their way Show me the one who survived, one of the regiment
But somebody must be aa door, somebody must be a lock and
Somebody must be a key
CHORUS
Earth and heaven
Between earth and heaven there is war Wherever you are, whatever you're doing There's war between earth and heaven
There are people somewhere who know there's day and there's night
There are people somewhere who have daughters and sons
There are people somewhere and this rule works for them
Which will make the wall shake
