There's a world inside my head waiting for the lights to change waiting for the sky to fall I shoulda known by now

there's a moment of peace that comes always when the time is wrong always waiting for a sign it shoulda shown by now

but you said not to wait
time moves on only when you leaving

forever just a moment in time walking away
now that it's over

never seems to come in the night
to take it away
and you won't feel safe till it's time and time again

the world is waiting for a sign

no, no

now there's no more
now there's no more
no more
