There's something' sexy 'bout the rain
She said as it came pourin' down
It feels like kisses on my skin
She spread her arms and spun around.

In a summer island storm
In a field of sugar cane
She taught me how and showed why
There's something sexy about the rain.

And sometimes it rained all night
And everything she did was perfect
And every way we were was right
We loved like there was no tomorrow
Then suddenly tomorrow came
And it was rainin' at the airport
It kept raining on the plain.

She only loved me for a season
But my heart wont ever be the same
Even now her love's the reason
There's something sexy 'bout the rain.

And sometimes when it's pourin' down
I feel her kisses on my skin
I spread my arms and spin around
And let that summer island storm
Hit me like a hurricane
It's like she's right here whisperin'
There's somethin' sexy 'bout the rain.

She followed me back to the city
In a picture in my mind
She's still young and she's still pretty
And even after all this time.

There's something' sexy 'bout the rain
She said as it came pourin' down
It feels like kisses on my skin
She spread her arms and spun around.

In a summer island storm
In a field, in a field of sugar cane
She taught me how and showed why
There's something sexy bout the rain.

She taught me how and she's still why
There's something sexy bout the rain.

Something sexyâ€¦about the rain.
Feels like kisses on my skin
In a summer island storm
Something sexy...
