I get along without you very well, of course, I do
Except when soft rains fall and drip from leaves
Then I recall the thrill of being sheltered in your arms
Of course I do, but I get along without you very well

I've forgotten you just like I should, of course, I have
Except to hear your name
Or someones laugh that's just the same
But I've forgotten you just like I should

What a guy, what a fool am I?
To think my breaking heart could kid the moon
What's in store, should I fall once more?
No it's best that I stick to my tune

I get along without you very well, of course, I do
Except perhaps in spring
But I should never ever think of spring
For that would surely break my heart in two

What's in store, should I fall once more?
No it's best that I stick to my tune

I get along without you very well, of course, I do
Except perhaps in spring
But I should never ever think of spring
For that would surely break my heart in two
