I walk down this busy street
I think about your leaving
Now my life may never be the same

Though I should be planning ways
To enjoy this endless freedom
Losing you has put my heart in chains

Darling, some prisons don't have walls
Your memory won't let me go at all
I found no way out since you've been gone
Some prisons don't have walls

Every night I turn the TV on
To break the sound of silence
For a while it takes you off my mind

Just when I feel over you
Reality surrounds me
There I am right back doing time

Darling, some prisons don't have walls
Your memory won't let me go at all
I found no way out since you've been gone
Some prisons don't have walls
Some prisons don't have walls
