In a room filled with dried tears of sorrow
And you come in and lay down by my side
Will you feel the same way tomorrow?
'Cause you smile just as easy as you cry

Was it wrong to be good to you?
Was it wrong to be your man?
'Cause I ain't getting through to you
And I've done all I can to make you understand

And my heart just keeps on bleeding
From the hole that drains my soul
And if I can't kill the feeling now
How do I, oh, I let go?

Time only heals when it wants to
I guess that's why
I just can't get you off of my mind

Yeah, when the walls come down between us
Will you be on the other side?
If you say you didn't need it
I will let you right back in for the rest of my life

Only you can stop the bleeding
From the hole that drains my soul
And if you can't kill the feeling now
How do I, oh, I let go, let go?

Yeah, and my heart just keeps on bleeding
From the hole that drains my soul
And if I can't kill the feeling now
How do I?

Only you can stop the bleeding
From the hole that drains my soul
And if you can't kill the feeling now
How do I, oh, I let go, let go?
