Staring out the window
Watching the night turn into day
Its four in the morning
Ive got so many things that I need to say
Ive been out here in the darkness
With shadows all around
Where was I before you came around?
Standing in a phone booth
Lord, I watching the rain fall down
Don't know where Im going
Don't even know the name of this town (of this town)
Ive been stranded in this spotlight
Like a king without a crown
Where was I before you came around?
I was lonely
I was on my own
I was drifting
No place to call home
Now Im stronger
Where would I be without you loving me?
I was lonely
On my own
I was drifting
No place to cal home
Now Im stronger
Where would I be without you loving me?
Oh, staring out the window
I heard you say it's gonna be all right (all right)
With these words from you girl
I can make it through another night
You give me someone to believe in
I was lost
But now Im found
Where was I before you came around?
You give me someone to believe in
I was lost
Now Im found
Where was I before you came around?
