I dont want to have to say this twice,
dont make me lift a finger,
even though i owe you one.
i can think of a thousand things inside my head i'd love to scream
but i just hold my tongue.
you dont think that i can hear but my ears are always
burning.
dont make me say this twice.

Dont you tell me that its ok, that you never said a word
when I wasnt looking.
I'll tear this playhouse down and laugh at how your
drama has no place.
You never should have crossed me.

Now that I know that things will never ever be the same..
oh wait, i forgot that this was never really all that great.
There are better ways to waste my time, stay right there
I'll be the one to walk away from you dont think that i can hear but my ears are always
burning.
dont make me say this twice.

Dont you tell me that its ok, that you never said a word
when I wasnt looking.
I'll tear this playhouse down and laugh at how your
drama has no place.
You never should have crossed me

You dug your grave, you cant get out
should i top the dirt off to keep you down?
You dug your grave, you cant get out
should i top the dirt off to keep you down?
You dont think that i can hear.
You dont think that i can hear
