"When It All Falls Down"

Visit "When It All Falls Down" on MotoLyrics.com

Home, the cornerstone Where everything we know is anything we hold Safe to say some seeds won't grow
When every single sorrow
Is everything we pour

We are the ones holding fear in our lives
The weight of the world will be gone when it all falls
down

Hold an honest goal
For everything you'll borrow
Is everything you'll owe

All and all, were heading for Scenes that deceive us for

The weight of the world will be gone when it all falls
down

The weight of the world will be gone when it all falls
down
It all falls down

The weight of the world will be gone when it all falls
down
