It was the 29th of March and our fever made it hard
To stay and stall to keep in shape
While magazines were trying hard to find next year's face

She is the sad one I'm a clown
Charlie Chaplin, Eva Braun
She learned to smile, I bought her friends
It was the beginning of the end

Ref.
It's cheap thrills and high scores
Its surgery and hijack bombs are fake
It's a timekill to die for
Its bedtime for jokes
We're dead serious this year

And here comes April all in blue
And good she dresses torned and too
They killed our heroes one by one
Poisoned by the TV chefs and reruns

Ref.
It's cheap thrills and high scores
Its surgery and hijack bombs are fake
It's a timekill to die for
Its bedtime for jokes
We're dead serious, my dear
