[1]

I will follow, where the stream goes
I've begged spirits, for solutions
I have asked all said, times and illusion
We were never meant to be

We've spent our lives, searching for ways
Looking for clues, within the maze
But fate it seems, to have it's demands
To keep us apart, oh once again
On and on and on it goes, where it stops we do not know
Another face another life, through the fire and through the ice
Oh through the Timescape, Oh through the Timescape
I called your name it seems, through all eternity
I have searched the ages through, it's hard to believe
We never will be, We never will be?
As I look across our lifetimes, I feel the casualties of the past
As I look into the future we only have that forecast

Oh through the Timescape, Oh through the Timescape

[3]

So one more time, we missed our cue
So one more time, we've lost in the truth
I know it's you and you know it's me
For what we had, we'll never concede
On and on and goes, where it stops we do not know
Another face another life, through the fire and through
the ice
Oh through the Timescape, Oh through the Timescape
I called your name it seems, through all eternity
I have searched the ages through, it's hard to believe
We will ever be, We will ever be?
I will search the world over, for our answer of mercy
I will call to the gods , to please just let us be
Oh through the Timescape, Oh through the Timescape
[repeat 1]
