I've been watching you silently
Blind-fold come in you violently
Feels like you've fallen and there's
No one out there, no one out there

Sleep walk wandering endlessly
Hands tied keep in your perfectly safe
No searching nor questioning follow me

An army of angels will take you away
An army of angels prepare to invade, don't be afraid
Your life starts today

Earthquakes ending you quietly
Wake up turning you painlessly
When your broken down hopelessly follow me
An army of angels will take you away
An army of angels prepare to invade, don't be afraid
Your life starts today

You live, you love
You cry but you're not alone
You breathe to die
I'm here if you don't believe your eyes
When your world starts to change
It's real, your fly but not on your own

An army of angels will take you away
An army of angels prepare to invade, don't be afraid
Your life starts today
An army of angels will take you away
An army of angels prepare to invade, don't be afraid
Your life starts today
