Said you from the hood and that's all you know
When your homies call and it's time to go
Live a life of crime it's your only grind
And you know it's wrong but the money's right
Praying for the day to come when your hustling days are done
And find girl and fall in love
A special someone that you know you can trust
But you ain't got time it's your way of life
And you know that one day you'll pay the price
So hope you choose life over death and Live your dream don't learn the lesson
Hope you see that someone loves you Change your life never try to hurt you
Mend your heart and won't desert you Don't you think your ever asking too much
All you need is love, love, love
All you ever need is love, love, love
And it's good to be in love, love, love
Now a new life has begun and Sometimes it may get rough
But I promise I be there to give you all my love
All that I want you to see is misery loves company and
All you friends they ain't your friends
Let something go wrong who can you depend on
When you crying out someone save me
They be looking at you like you crazy
How much love will you have from the hood
When they ain't have your back like they said they would
You need to see who's on your side and who wants a better life for you

Think which your head and not with your pride Deep down you really know the truth nobody wants to see you cry
I know ust what you been through cuz it can be good or it can be bad
All you need is love, love, love
All you ever need is love, love, love
And it's good to be in love, love, love
Now a new life has begun

Sometimes it gets rough
But I promise I be there to give you all my love
Life is only as hard as you make it
If you are in control you can break it
You gotta know that your life is worth saving
Trust in your heart
See I know times get rough, I do
And you think of all the things that brought you down
But if you look up you can get up trust in yourself and I promise it'll be okay
I promise all you need is love

All you need is love, love, love
All you ever need is love, love, love
And it's good to be in love, love, love
Now a new life has begun
Sometimes it gets rough
But I promise I be there to give you all my love
