No one ever really showed me how to love but I've done I've done the very best that I could (best that I could) I'm selfish sometimes I'm jeal, jealous but I cant imagine how hard life would be without you

I know how lucky i am to have you, i don't tell you enough that all i have for you is love and i wasted away so many chances to say how much it means to know there's someone out there like you hmm ohh ohh ohhhh ohh ohhhh after all the ups and downs we've been though there's a fav that ties a lifeline from me to you and its larger than love yea you just have to trust (just have to trust) no one can touch or ever take that away from us

I know how lucky i am to have you,

we were never strangers it was meant to be what we have it was destiny its so crazy but its almost like you know me better than myself and now we read each others mind before we say a word

I'm more comfortable around you more myself then I've ever been around anyone else and if I'm taking you for granted, nooooo

I know how lucky i am to have you,
