I noticed you were sleeping
I was walking down the tunnel
Why's the reason why I've had to struggle
Then I got to thinking, y'know what are the reasons
What could be worth all this trouble
I've my end of the easy ride
My easy life
Didn't ever know the world isn't on my side
It's no lie
We've heard it all before
In the constant state of war*
They all said things work out that way
That the beauty and & pain
No it isn't all the same
But I've got one that has to change

See, I made up my mind
My excuses left behind
From now on, things work out my way
Things work out my way
Things work out my way (yeah)
Well we've heard it all before
In the constant state of war*
They all said things work out that way
The beauty & the pain
No, it isn't all the same
But I got one that has to change
See, I made up my mind
My excuses left behind
From now on, things work out my way
Things work out my way
