Without love, who am I
Without you, I'm nothing
When my eyes are set on you, time stands still
I can't believe this is happening
I've never felt this way
This won't be just another love song
These aren't just words to me

I think you're perfect lit a starlit sky
No one else on this earth could ever be as beautiful

Is it true that life with you could make me feel alive; so alive
Could it be that my dreams come true and you are mine

You are mine

If it's a dream, just let me sleep
Let me lay with you forever
There's no one in this universe
That shines as bright as you

I think you're perfect lit a starlit sky
No one else on this earth could ever be as beautiful
