Why do you still play with me? Treat me like a game
I don't need the pain, I've had enough

You say we should stay in touch, and you're there for me
But it's plain to see, you're somewhere else

Funny how the situation changes
Love can turn the best of friends into strangers

Why do you still lie to me? Why do you pretend?
Everything must end, just let me go

Funny how the situation changes
Love can turn the best of friends into strangers

Why do you still lie to me? Why do you pretend?
Everything must end, just let me go

Funny how the situation changes
Your love can turn the best of friends into strangers

Yeah, funny how the situation changes
Love can turn the best of friends into strangers
