You run run run, you get nowhere
Oh, take it easy, oh, take it easy
A long time gone, babe, I still care
It isn't easy, it isn't easy

I still feel that it's true
Still in love with you

You push, you pull but that's not fair
Oh, take it easy, oh, take it easy
You're not here, so you must be there
It isn't easy, it isn't easy

I still feel that it's true
Still in love with you

You're running, you're running
You're running away
You're running, you're running
You're running away

You're running, you're running
You're running away
You're running, you're running
You're running away

You're running, you're running
You're running away
You're running, you're running
You're running away

You're running, you're running
You're running away
You're running, you're running
You're running away

You push, you pull but that's not fair
Oh, take it easy, take it easy
You're not here, babe, you must be there
It isn't easy, it isn't easy

I still feel that it's true

Still in love with you

You're running, you're running
You're running away
You're running, you're running
You're running away

You're running, you're running
You're running away
You're running, you're running
You're running away

You're running, you're running
You're running away
You're running, you're running
You're running away
