We have days very long, e have days very hard
We're given up our lives for the sake of the call
And in those times when we thought, we were not gonna make it
We would remind ourselves that our reward is in Heaven

We're goin' to a place that is truly blessed
A place where we'll find rest
Prepared for me and you
I'm getting my house in order, how about you?

A place that is full of peace
Love it will be over flowing
We'll be there for eternity
I want you there, yeah, I want you there with me

Keep your head up, He's coming some day
To carry us away to a better place
Keep your head up, He's coming some day
To carry us away to a better place

We all have times when we're weak
And we have times when we're strong
We don't always do what's right
'Cause sometimes it's easier to do wrong

Well, everybody makes mistakes, yeah
At some point in their lives
You know that nobody's perfect
We're all just reaching for the prize

We're goin' to a place that is truly blessed
A place where we'll find rest
Prepared for me and you
I'm getting my house in order, how about you?

A place that is full of peace
Love it will be over flowing
We'll be there for eternity
I want you there, yeah, I want you there with me

Keep your head up, He's coming some day
To carry us away to a better place
Keep your head up, He's coming some day
To carry us away to a better place

Keep your head up, He's coming some day
To carry us away to a better place
Keep your head up, He's coming some day
To carry us away to a better place

We're going home
We're going to a much, much better place, yeah yeah
A better place, a better place, He's coming home
We're going on to a better place

White pearly gates that's where the streets are made
With gold, His glory illuminates the Heavens
Walls of jasper, we'll live there ever after We'll seek his face, we'll bow down and cry holy, holy, holy, holy

He's coming to carry us away
To a better, to a better, to a much, much better place
Keep your head up, He's coming to take us away
To a better, to a better place

Keep your head up, He's coming some day
To carry us away to a better place
Keep your head up, He's coming some day
To carry us away to a better place

Keep your head up, He's coming some day
