The sidewalk it's the main stage,
and the stars are the audience.
And the city is all we need tonight.

The reflections are flashing from the cars,
passing by all the people,
Who're in our story light.

We don't need hunger,
or the big screen baby.
not afraid of who we are,
We got a light dancin under the streetlights.
Under the streetlights, under the streetlights.

From the rhythm on the subway,
through the sound of the underground,
have offered to move us anytime.

Cause...
We need no hunger,
red carpets baby.
not afraid of who we are,
We got a light dancin under the streetlights.
Under the streetlights, under the streetlights.

We got it all,
all that you'll ever need.
all right here,
just you and me.

Under the streetlights, mmmm...
Under the streetlights!
We don't need nobody else ,
no big screen, oh yeah!
Under the streetlights, Under the streetlights.
Under the streetlights, yeah.
