She was mi primer amor, the one I gave my heart to Everything I have from deep within me
And one day she was gone
Without even said a goodbye

I still wait to see her, though I try to forget her
The love that she gave me, the moment that we share
Drive me crazy to find out
How she could be in someone's arms other than mine?

That is why, I've been living without you
Just trying to forget you and other kisses
After all this time I can't believe I found you
Baby, talk to me please, move closer to me
My heart is calling

It says, I love you, please let me love you
If we try once again this time you won't go
'Cause I will show you what I'm feeling for you
I still have you kisses deep inside of me

I still wait to see her, though I try to forget her
The love that she gave me, the moment that we share
Drive me crazy to find out
How she could be in someone's arms other than mine?
