Well the pressure kids... They own asphalt, they won't roll the die
They just ask what they eat through the world of the sick with the world of shit or the sad songs, they will love to hate They're just reaching through the worst of their kind

Oh the pressure kids... they're over sin's sins cuz they hold the die
do it all in the name of the weak and the wrong

The pressure kids... they won't control the die or sue their shoes of the constant of tragedy

Pressure kids... they won't own the die they will love to hate and eat through the heart 'til it all goes away

The pressure kids... they all love to play themselves, all to blame themselves
The pressure kids... they all love to play themselves They all just play their ends and all the giving in

Well the pressure kids... they like to escalate, believe the measurers will form an alarm With the silence that speaks to the ridlin mouths and the tongues of hate/late Who live the save-me lives and fall into arms that will always give us away

The pressure kids...
