The question is where did this begin
Who authored and who finished it
Such a beautiful world
But such a twisted plan
For it to end before we really lived in it

Oh tell me why this is happening
Oh tell me should I believe in anything

I find your beautiful mind in everything
But everything can make me believe
I find your beautiful eyes see everything
So show me something beautiful please

Corporation's rights
As the working man will fall
We bit the apple, now the apple's eating us
We won our fifteen minutes
Then we won it all
Watch our own image bleeding us
I feel so cold and I'm growing old
Come on now just finish it

Oh tell me what's the purpose of love
She looks the best when she just walks away

I find your beautiful hands make everything
And everything is all I need
I find your beautiful eyes see everything
So show me something beautiful please

I can not figure it
Tell me Lord
Please show me Lord
Let me see it

Is there a code that I can't crack?
My life is slipping right off the track
Don't even know if I want it back
So take it away from me

I find your beautiful mind in everything
And everything is all I need

I find your beautiful eyes see everything
So show me something beautiful
I find your beautiful eyes see right through me
So show me what You want me to be
