You've got a one track mind
Held in formaldehyde, you stay inside
You don't want anyone to find you
You've got a secret drug
But its never enough to take the place of love
And someday your masterpiece will revive you

And now you've got the body
You shock the party in every way
But your vacant baby blues give you away
And now you've got the body
You use the body to get your way
But when I touch you there's no life inside you
Turn on your electric heart today!

You are an only child
Yeah your spoiled and wild, so infantile
You just need a soul to trip the wire
Its time to draw the shades
Eyes are open wide, a brave new world to face
Your Maker's ready to connect the hard-drive

And yeah you've got the body
You shock the party in every way
But your teleprompter lines give you away
And now you've got the body
You use that body to get your way
But when I touch you there's no life inside you
Turn on your electric heart
Jumpstart your electric heart today!

(Turn it up, feel the mix, insert the card)

Oh
And now you got the body
You stock the party in every way
But your programmed popstar moves are so cliché
And now you've grown the body
You use the body to get your way
But when I test the spirit left inside you
Turn on your electric heart
Jumpstart your electric heart

Turn on your electric heart today!
