I ran into your arms like Moses parted water
I ran into your arms like an angel to the father
I ran into your arms like a soul that has departed and you rescued me

I fell down like the stars, you pick me up so tenderly
And I fell down like the stars, my wings made of clay
And I fell down like the stars, you hold me up so I can see
And you rescued me, oh yes

You, You are the One
You are the One, the only One
'Cause You are,
You, You are the One
You are the One, You are my God

I stumble like a blind man
Destined to this earth I stray
I stumble like a blind man
No redemption
I stumble like a blind man
With eyes blacked out and mouth of sand
And you rescued me, oh come on

You, You are the One
You are the One, You are my God
'Cause You are,
You, You are the One
You are the One, the only One

'Cause you are,

You are the sky that holds the rain
You are my great escape
You are the drugs that kill the pain
You are everything, the teacher

I stand before your altar,
Fallen strain of Abram's son
I stand before your altar,

Like a lamb led to the slaughter

You, You are the One
You are the One, the Only One
'Cause You are
You, You are the One
You are the One, the only One
And You are
You, You are the One
You are the One
You are my God
And you are
You, You are the One
You are the One, the only One
'Cause You are

You wanna call me when I'm wondering with doubt
You wanna call and tell me everything's all right
I know it's you and you see everything in me
I know it's you

You are the sky that holds the rain

You are the sky that holds the rain
