If I could write one song to right all wrongs, I would, if I could

But in retrospect a little bad is good, mm, hmm
We all do what we want and don't know what we need, mm, mm

Life is good 'til three then bittersweet indeed, mm, hmm

Well, I'm so human, it is a goddamn shame, I'm your thing

And I'm not sure that I'll always keep us in pain, yes sir
And to remind you of that I'll survive somehow, oh
And with freedom that I can still be your man right now and now

'Cuz I wanna hut two, three, four, what the hell are you waiting for?

Live

(Think about it, are you sure you're really living?)

Live

(Think about it, are you sure you're really living?)

Now hut two, three, four, what the hell are you waiting for?

Live

(Think about it, are you sure you're really living?)

Just live

(Think about it, are you sure you're really living?)

Well, I've struggled so hard that I survived
And it's a miracle that I'm still alive

Said stand up, everybody, uh, this is your life
You gotta get it when you can y'all
Half rich for months is your knife
We can't forget about the brothers, the sisters
The lovers who ain't here
You only got one life, y'all, and I repeat the point it ain't clear

And if it ain't fair then what's stopping you from going

Do you not want to be responsible for knowing

'Cuz ignorance is bliss and ignorance is just so fucking ignorant
You may even be ignorant of this
If you say so my Desoto's the significance of this I'm good lookin', still fuckin', so fools don't make a dish
Light a candle for love, blow it out and make a wish
And I hope I die happy like fish

'Cuz I wanna hut two, three, four, what the hell are you waiting for?
Live
(Think about it, are you sure you're really living?)
Live
(Think about it, are you sure you're really living?)

Now hut two, three, four, what the hell are you waiting for?
Live
(Think about it, are you sure you're really living?)
Just live
(Think about it, are you sure you're really living?)

Well, I've struggled so hard that I survived
And it's a miracle that I'm still alive
Well, I have struggled so hard, yet I survive
And a little miracle that I'm still alive
