In this constellation you dry every tear
On this marble of a planet you end every fear
You pray for everyone
You cant stop, cant stop till youre done

And Danielle
You fell
Into your very own wishing well

In the hours of night you help light the sweetest of fires
Close attention is always paid even to the worst of liars
You dream so high you soar with the birds
Your name both ways is a play-on-words

And Danielle
You fell
Into your very own wishing well

Danielle
You fell
Into your very own wishing well

Danielle you fell into your own wishing well
And Danielle to you anything I can tell
Danielle
