I close my eyes before the light goes out
I'm dreaming awake I have no doubt
Is this the part where I say I'm sorry ?
Should I take it back?

Should I walk without fear?
Should I walk like you're not right here?
Is this the part where I say hello?
Is this when I get up and go?

What are you praying for?
What are you waiting for?
A change is going to come

I open my eyes before the tears come in
I replay: Where did this begin
It bleeds together before I'm done
Then I dive into a water's worth of sun
And is the part where I walk back?
Is this the part when I'm about to crack?

What are you praying for?
What are you waiting for?
A change is going to come

Unafraid to change, I am unafraid to change
Not afraid, not afraid to stay the same

Time is on its knees
It's begging my torn heart please
Is this the part where I regret what I mean?
This is the end to the best movie I have ever seen

What are you praying for?
What are you waiting for?
A change is going to come
