Talk to me with unchained lips
Unlock my heart with your finger tips
My head is under, the sky is pink
You're gone, it thunders
You're everything I have to think

I turn down the volume and look inside
I apologize as the conversation dies
Life must be lived bright and strong
The need is to hold, hold on

The sun also rises
Just thought you should know
The sun also rise
I think you should know

For everything given, something is taken away
Please, please don't throw your day
Live it in a kingdom in the sky
Nothing is bad, everything's alive

The sun also rises
Just thought you should know
The sun also rise
I think you should know

I keep my fire alive
We pray and pray
Don't throw your day
Today tonight fill up with sunlight
Tonight live

The sun also rises
Just thought you should know
The sun also rise
I think you should know

I keep my fire alive
We pray and pray
Don't throw your day
Today tonight fill up with sunlight
Tonight live
