Winding down Winding down this road
Winding down this road that leads to nowhere but home
And she's not there
Winding up Winding up alone
Winding up alone most every evening
I try not to care

I used to wrap her love around me
Kept me warm when the wind would blow
Now only memories surround me
Like a blanket of snow

Love is warm Love is warm and kind
Love is warm and kind of like her shoulder
It turns cold and then it's gone
Love is cold Love is cold as ice
Love is cold as ice when it's over
But I'm still holding on

I used to wrap her love around me
Kept me warm when the wind would blow
Now only memories surround me
Like a blanket of snow
