Uh, uh, yeah back with another one.
It's a beautiful Sunday.
I got something new for ya'll, listen to it,

She was the apple of my eye she was always down to ride.

Could've been together, but I couldn't get past my pride.

Bonnie & Clyde, something like a dynamic duo.

More ups & downs than Khameel with a yoyo.

Think about all the things we could've done together.

Brought the sun in my life now it's dark as stormy weathers.

Love at first sight when I seen you in the parking lot.

Now you gone & my heart straight dropped like stocks.

No other girl put my head in a twirl

just the way you kiss me & the way you move your curls from your face

from your face & you'll always have a place in heard.

If you relate to this sing along to the next part like

Stop, look, yeah, listen to your heart, hear what it's saying [x4]

School bout to start but we are apart.

Not going back as one, need her like a lung.

She a breath of fresh air, miss playing in her hair.

Through with the kitty games, pack up the county fair.

You're the one who kept me going now I'm at a dead end.

More than a lover, she was my best friend.

I let the homies tell me that I don't need you.

Now I'm looking at these lames like "I don't need you"

& I'm cool by myself but I really need your loving.

What is a teddy bear if it don't have stuffing, what is a pen without having something to write.

What I'm trying to say is baby I need you in my life

you the light to my darkness

I'm fighting off all this you were my teammate with you
I felt safe.
I should've listened, yeah.

CHORUS

Yeah, you better.
Yeah I should've listened, yeah.
I should've listened, yeah.
But not it's too late, yeah not it's too late, I should've listened.
Uh, yeah uh I should've listened.

Khleo.
PEACE.
