It's 2 o'clock in the morning.
Lemme take you on a ride, I wanna tell ya'll a story
I look back reminiscing all the times I was doubted.
How folks said I would fail.
But my dreams never got clouded by the negativity or
the people's words.
Dreams were in the sky way above the clouds & the birds.

I remember Jr. High, John Burrows Middle School.
One of the 5 black stators way before it got cool.
Mr. Connor was his name, my teacher from my first class.
Had a chip on his shoulder
I think he failed as a dad or something like that cos he always had an attitude
Didn't know how to talk to kids, in some ways he was rude.
One day he asked me what I wanna do.
I said "I wanna act"
He looked me in my eyes & said "you're never gonna do that"
Imagine if I let those words crush me right there,
would I made it this far?
Would I be right here?

A year ago go by I did at movie named Holes.
Now I'm known back at the school for the name Zero.
Walk back on school grounds like "Yo wats up!"
All my friends are like "you ain't nothing, you ain't even blown up"
I'm like" DAMN, ya'll already know what the name is.
I'm not there yet I'm still gon' be famous."
I got a long way to go, trust me when I say.
Now my friends talking like 'yeah that'll be the day'
Little did they know that the movie didn't even drop yet
In the films in the T.V screens who'd knew they'd see.
IMAGINE THAT.

Before we go, can you imagine?
Picture years with your mom, can you imagine?

Paint a picture in the sky, can you imagine?
Call emergency, I've been dreamin' all my life.

Now when it comes to my music its neck & neck with my acting.
It's always been my passion.
I was in 3rd grade rappin.
The love for the beats and the love for the lyrics.
Wishing one day I could be on the big stage just spittin.
I think people presume I can't rock a crowd.
I'm feeling doubted
Even by my big bro Bow
When he hears me rap I don't think he clicks in.
Does he believe I'm trying to steal the spotlight from him?
It's not it at all.
I just want my own. That Ain't I Freestyle I think I held my own.
I love you big bro you taught me a lot.
Can you imagine us if Roll Bounce never got shot?
I imagine one day L.B. Dub havin our own tour.
You me Jus and shock kim like on scream four.

Times I was down. Like was rapping a mistake?
Then my hopes got lifted when I first heard Drake.
We had the same background.
He was acting at first now he's hip hops savior.
They say it's in a herse.
The rap game ain't dead it's just evolution.
The hands of a new bread we got the solution.

For the people listen for the new music from Kle Ya'll the ones that keep me writing without you there's no me.
In the future I hope there's more songs for me and Bow to write.
Waiting on the day we get in the studio and collaborate.
IMAGINE THAT.
Yeah imagine that, L.B Dub gang I love you all.
Ya'll my brothers.
Imagine that though.

Before we go, can you imagine?
Picture years with your mom, can you imagine?
Paint a picture in the sky, can you imagine?
Call emergency, I've been dreamin' all my life.
