Voice 1 & 2 Duet:

There's always stories left to tell
About swimming through the thick and thin
One more breath that we can't take
While one ends and then one more begins

We worked hard at it
We worked hard at it
You will never be that cold

Stories turned as tight as weave
All locked up and looking for the key
I'm a mountain you can't move
Refusing to live my life by gay recluse

We worked hard at it
We worked hard at it
You will never be that cold

We worked hard at it
We worked hard at it
You will never be that cold

Well now don't come back
Or try and save me

Well now don't come back
Or try and save me

Well now don't come back
Or try and save me

Well now don't come back
Don't try and save me

We worked hard at it
We worked hard at it
You will never be that cold

We worked hard at it
We worked hard at it

You will never be that cold

(Drum and Guitar break)

Voice 1:

Well now don't come back
Or try and save me

Well now don't come back
Or try and save me

(Voice 2 in Background: ?I'll be moving on?)

Well now don't come back
Or try and save me

Well now don't come back
Don't try and save me

Voice 1:

I tear my throat out every night
I pick apart the black and white
Shed my skin with every tear
I'm fuckin' movin' on

(Chorus in background throughout versus: ?I'll be moving on?)

Different lives would feel complete
With feat together every beat
King and queen might steal it all
Why do we drag it out

Voice 2:

Well in this world in all it's rage
The ones my pen can rearrange
The rage and fear that's in your eyes
Do we drag it out?

Voice 1:

Up all night and next to you
Replay the fights that we've been through
What it does to be near you
Can we let it out?

Voice 2:

In my head there is a fear
That I won't blaze my own frontier
Down the path that's right for me
Gotta get it out

Voice 1:

This time I'm sleeping on the street

Do what it takes to make ends meet
Our love is falling down the stairs
I'm fukin moving on

Chorus:
I'll be moving on
I'll be moving on
(Slower) I'll be moving on
