There's a warm summers breeze not a cloud in the sky
You put your worries on hold when the sun shines
And the girls are outside reading cosmopolitan
And the boys are outside, and you know they're watching them
And the girls are outside reading cosmopolitan
And the boys are outside, and you know they're
watching them

It must be interesting
Because you've been reading the same page since half past 10
It's now half past 12
Come on girl you ain't reading it at all
Because you're looking our way
But your shades are in the way
And I think it's safe to say
That you've been caught

Middle eight x2

Kids are playing
Ice Cream licking
Oh in the sunshine
Football kicking
Milkshake drinking
Wicket hitting in the sun

All the boys are in their shorts and ting
And all the fresh white T's are blowing in the wind
It's now half past 6
The suns going down but that don't mean shit
Cos we're feeling no way
We've been drinking all day
And I think it's safe to say
The nights still young

The boys are outside, sunshine blazin down
The girls are outside looking fine, because the rays
are...
The boys are outside, sunshine blazin down

are...

Let the sun shine through...

Outside, cosmopolitan

Outside, sun blazing down

Outside, cosmopolitan

Outside, sun blazing down
