Now he's gone away, only man who's ever made me cry
Not so far away, far enough to make me wanna die
Crying over me, is what he's gonna be
When he's hit by the need of my love
Crying he will be, when he's dreamin' of me
And decides that he needs what once was
All the memories follow me wherever I may go
Haunting melodies playing in the night to let me know
Dance along with me with the sun and the sea
Only love makes what feels so sublime
Do a dance with me to a love fantasy
That for one precious moment was mine

Crying he will be, when he's thinking of me
And concedes to the need to be loved
Crying he will be, when he's dreaming of me
And decides that he needs what once was

Dance along with me Mr. Sun, Mr. Sea
Keep the feeling so strong and so tender
Do a dance with me to a love fantasy
Just for one day of total surrender.
