"My World"

Little homie, in the room
(In, in the room)
Boy on the moon
Had, (had) no one
No one to hang out with
Talk that shit to just my little homies
One year younger din' get where I was going
Took a turn to the worse when my father left me lonely
Lonely in my room I (I) mean me up on the moon
Entertained myself, laughed at myself
As I grew to be a teen I disguised myself
At the lowest self-esteem, especially with the girls
Tried out every sport just to impress all the girls
Instead of all the ladies, 'cuz they talk down
I was too artsy, known to be a clown
And know my Facebook pop it
'Cuz I told the same girls I would be the hot shit

One day...
This will be my world
(I told you so)
This will be my world
(I told you so)
This will be my world
(I told you so)
This will be my world

Yeah
Big homie, made the move
(Made, made the move)
Flew off the moon
Still had (had) no one
No one to hang out with
Talk that shit to just my Brooklyn niggas
All I would wonder is when will my time come
Had mad jobs and I lost damn near all of them
Think about my bosses, yep I hated all of them
Studio at night had me hustlin' to most of them
Nigga I was late, damn near every day
But I'ma be on time when my stars align

When my soul is happy on my Ramen diet
Followed by a loosey was the meal of grinders
So if you knowin' the truth all you think about is that thing
Always be a hater tryin' to shoot down any dreams
Until you meet a kid like K-I
Niggas thought I was crazy, my mama know I stay high
(We're getting' money mom)

This will be my world
(I told you so)
This will be my world
(I told you so)
This will be my world
(I told you so)
This will be my world

I was heavy (heavy, heavy) on my grizzle and none of ya'll had a clue about me
And none of ya'll had a clue about me
And none of ya'll really knew about me
I was heavy (heavy, heavy) on my grizzle and none of ya'll really cared about me
And none of ya'll really cared about me
Now, guess what? I'm all you see
(I'm all you see)

This will be my world
(I told you so)
This will be my world
(I told you so)
This will be my world
(I told you so)
This will be my world
