I've been on the cover of the Rolling Stone
I met the president when I was half stoned
I been so high, I've gotten confused
I been beat down, broke and used, motherfucker

I drank with Hank, talked blues with Billy
Rocked with Run, sang with shotgun Willy
Went from small time Philly to big time Bobby
From 3 day Old Chili to Saki with Wosabi

I'm home, hey, I'm home
You never met a motherfucker quite like me
But not like me
Didan dada like me
Hey like me

No more bein' poured drink specials at winners
Or being ignored by the think straight sinners
I used to smoke pinnars while my mom's made dinner
Now, I smoke bombs and rock with Lynyrd Skynyrd

No beginners here, I'm a seasoned vet
Educated on jazz by my man, Amed
Heard again my friend, I been the world n back
But I'm Michigan boy, can you feel that?

And I'm home
You never met a motherfucker quite like me
Not like me
God damn like me
Hey, hey, like me

Never thought I'd go as far in life as this Never made par and I could give 2 shits
Never wanted sell cars 'cause my dad was a dick
Never wanted a guitar 'till I heard a lick like this

And from the depths of Dixie to my Northern spots
You know it's time to rock when ole glory drops

I pimp through town with the top laid back
Black hat, fine blonde, cold pabst in my lap

I'll adapt to any and all situations
That's why they call me the pimp of the nation

Hey bitch, you best believe
I live in the woods, not your world of greed
Might, a little weed, might a little, yeah
I'm so proud to be living in the USA

You've never met a motherfucker quite like me
Hey, hey like me
Da, di, da, da, stay like me
Hey, hey, hey, like me

You ain't ever met
And you ain't never going meet
You never met a, never met a, never Never, never, never met a
Motherfucker quite like me

You ain't never met a mother like me
Hey, you ain't never, never, never, never Never met someone like me
(Hey, hey)
Never met like me
(Hey, hey)

Never met a mother like me
(Dude, hey, come on, hey)
And you never, and you never gonna, you never, never gonna
(Hey, come on already)

You never meet
(Hey, stop)
Hey, what?
(Dude, there's more to life than just you)
