Up on the screen, it's so hard to tell when Everything seems like it's something else and then you
Divert your eyes when it's hot to the touch and then you Say, 'Goodnight, I think I feel too much'. When will you

Come, come to your knees
Then bow to it,
Will come, come to your knees?
The time is running out
And then nobody wins with

Comets and violins
Wash away
All of our sins
Comets and violins
Wash away
All of our sins

Up on the screen it's so hard to tell you when Everything seems like it's something to sell and then you
Say you love her with a tragic charm
Yet you're breaking all the rules to harm her

Come, come to your knees
And bow to it
You gonna
Come, come to your knees
It's getting harder to breathe
And it seems easy to see

Comets and violins
Wash away
All of our sins
Comets and violins
Wash away
All of our sins
And in the end
It will begin
With comets and violins crashing over everything

Skies will wash it over

With things we chose to forget of
The skies will wash it over
And then it's over,
And then it's over with

Comets and violins
Wash away
All of our sins
Comets and violins
Wash away
All of our sins
And in the end
In the end
Comets and violins crashing in the end

It will begin.
