Kidney Thieves
"Take A Train (Intro)"

I wanted to take a train to the nearest awakening
Took a bullet the speed of light, into infinite time
I noticed a wake, the face was mine
Where was I?

I wanted to take a break at the next gathering
Made a change to white and light to the snap on my behind
I noticed a face, the mother was mine
Where was I?

I wanted to kick dust on the road Im traveling Raking time in my mind like leaves, weaved in suffer and cry
I noticed your face, I was looking at mine
Where was I?

I wanted to ask someone but whos listening
Mistake in the belief that all I see is with my eyes
I noticed no one could see my face and I knew that I was flying.

-in an instant-

I knew were I was again.
I was taking another train to the nearest awakening...
