Leader board, who's keeping score?
you've got it all and you want more so put your money where your mouth is money where your mouth is Pretty boy, who's keeping score?

When I said goodbye to you
I didn't think that we'd make it through put your money where your mouth is
money where your mouth is
When I open up to you
you only tell me that you like the view

do do do... do you know where to go in the event of an emergency?

you know where to go
in the event of an emergency?

eloquent and self assured an artist's grasp of insecure you put your money where your mouth is
money where your mouth is I'm getting bored, I'm getting bored of talking straight into the wall

money where your mouth is
when I open up to you

do do do...
in the event of an emergency?

in the event of an emergency?

you're so disgusting
you're my hero
you look just like trouble

do do do...

so dance the dance we used to dance when you cared less about the things that don't matter at all to anyone that I'd open my door to
