

Kids In The Way "Farewell"

I close my eyes to yesterday
All the memories start to play
And oh, the skies were so blue
And it's me and it's you
Growing older and older

But now you're gone and I must be strong
And find a way to carry on

Farewell, this is the end
But I'll remember you
I know we'll meet again
And our days will be all brand new

You haunt my dreams and come to me
To tell me now that your soul is free
Oh, the skies are so blue
And I'm watching over you
Growing older and older

So hold me close and always know
My hands will lead you as you go

Farewell, this is the end
But I'll remember you
I know we'll meet again
And our days will be all brand new

Cross my heart, hope to die
I will see you on the other side, Allelu, Allelu
Cross my heart, hope to die
I will see you on the other side, Allelu, Allelu

Cross my heart, hope to die
I will see you on the other side
Cross my heart, hope to die
I will see you on the other side

Farewell, this is the end
But I'll remember you
I know we'll meet again
Our days will be all brand new

Farewell, this is the end
But I'll remember you
I know we'll meet again
Our days will be all brand new

Farewell, this is the end
But I'll remember you
I know we'll meet again
Our days will be all brand new

Farewell, this is the end
