Room on the 1st floor
Not what we asked for
I'm not tired enough to sleep
One bed is broken
Next room is smoking
Air conditioning's stuck on heat

Outside it's raining
There's a guest upstairs complaining
About the room that's got the TV too loud
Guess at times like these remind me
That I gotta keep my feet on the ground

Wake up so early
Round 7:30
Housekeeping knocking on my door
"Do not disturb" sign
The back of her mind
I must have on the floor

My eyes are hurting
Cause the cheap nylon curtains
Let's the sunlight creep in through from the clouds
Guess at times like these remind me
That I gotta keep my feet on the ground

The roof keeps leaking
The door keeps creaking
I can't take this any more
The TV keeps braking
The room keeps shaking
I'd rather be in number 4

The room has no phone
So I can't call home
I just hope it will be found
Guess at times like these remind me
That I gotta keep my feet on the ground
