There's a lot of ways to go
And a lot of things we never said
Ready and waiting
Anticipating
Looking ahead

Let me see beyond your smile
Come to me before I fade away
I ran to the helpless
Childishly I yearned
Could it be that I was finally touched by love

In return, in return, in return, in return, in return
In return, in return, in return, in return, in return

Think of all the life we love to love
And feel my spirit soaring high above
Once in a while, won't you tell me
All I need to know
I need to know
I gotta know

You're leaving me speechless
Childishly I yearned
Could it be that I was finally touched by love

In return, in return, in return, in return, in return
In return, in return, in return, in return, in return
In return, in return, in return, in return, in return
(finally holding on)
In return, in return, in return, in return, in return
(finally holding on)
In return, in return, in return, in return, in return
(someone, someone)
In return, in return, in return, in return, in return
(Finally holding on)
In return, in return, in return, in return, in return
(Someone)
In return, in return, in return, in return, in return
