"Sweet Creation"

See the day she has found another soul
New life begins as a story to be told
Brighter than ever was before
How could anything be so sure
That to see a new life begin

Life unfolds as the circle starts to turn
Round and around and the flame begins to burn
Brighter than ever was before
How could anything be so sure
How could anyone ask for more
Than to see a new life begin

Yours and mine
Sweet creation
The miracle of birth
Born to the confusion of this earth

All my life I have waited for this time
Here in my arms lies the future yours and mine
Brighter than ever was before
How could anything be so sure
How could anyone ask for more
Than to see a new life begin

Yours and mine
Sweet creation
Another child confused
Take the air in
All is lost
All the wonder
